

Promotion Terms and Conditions

Community Radio, Inc. is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization licensed by the Federal Communications Commission as a noncommercial educational radio station. The FCC grants "enhanced underwriting," permitting us to broadcast donor and underwriter acknowledgments from for-profit entities. These acknowledgments can include logos, slogans identifying but not promoting sponsoring businesses, business location information, value-neutral product descriptions, and brand and trade names along with product or service listings. Subjects prohibited in underwriting announcements include price information, calls to action, inducements to buy, sell, rent, or lease, and language implying favorable comparisons to other businesses or competitors. In recognition of the non-commercial nature of educational broadcasting and its own non-profit mission, Community Radio, Inc. will exercise restraint in composing and presenting such announcements.

The FCC does, however, allow us to promote other non-profit organizations with on-air promotional announcements. Noncommercial Educational Station Fundraising for Third-Party Non-Profit Organizations restrictions do apply.
